DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Danz et al., U. S. Patent No. 5805020.

Regarding claim 1, Danz et al. (herein, Danz) discloses a silent start class d amplifier. Danz's disclosure comprises an audio signal input, which reads on an audio signal, a comparator, which reads on a means of converting the audio signal, and an amplifier (col.2, lines 26-56 and col. 5, lines 20-48 and figures 4 and 5).

Regarding claim 2, Danz discloses everything claimed as applied above (see claim 1). Danz discloses a logic (figures 4 and 5), which indicates a logic array, wherein it is inherent that clock is provided with a predetermined frequency as evident by the characteristics and make of logic circuits or means.

Regarding claim 3, Danz discloses everything claimed as applied above (see claim 1). Danz inherently discloses a ripple count included in a logic means (figures 4 and 5), as evident by the characteristics and make of logic circuits or means.

Regarding claim 4, Danz discloses a silent start class d amplifier. Danz's disclosure comprises an audio signal input, which reads on an audio signal, a comparator, which reads on a means of converting the audio signal, an amplifier and logic, which indicates a logic array, wherein it is inherent that clock is provided with a predetermined frequency as evident by the characteristics of logic means - (col.2, lines 26-56 and col. 5, lines 20-48 and figures 4 and 5).

Claims 4-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 10 is allowed.
